PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

WE MUST WORK IF WE GROW AND WILL GROW IF WE WORK!

In the May 1971 issue of TNA News # 2187 was the first number listed for application for membership. The last number for February is # 2236, a total of 139 applications taken for adult, associate and junior members.

We are most grateful for those who have come to us, also for those members who have helped in this effort. There are far too many of us who have left the work to someone else. By the time this reaches you it will be too late to have your efforts show in the April issue, however let us start now for our next convention year.

There are so many things we can accomplish for the good of so many but we must have greater involvement of our present membership and expand our numbers by at least 50 per cent. We are aware that this will not be accomplished in one year, but it can be done with enthusiasm and efforts by each of us.

We had the privilege of attending the Greater Houston coin show. Also the awards' breakfast — and the awards were the best this group has ever used.

The meeting with Governor Charlotte Nichols and the people of District 6 was very good.

On February 13 we will be with Governor D. O. Joplin and members of District 9 in Levelland. Really looking forward to this meeting as there is so much enthusiasm in this district.

On March 16 the Beaumont and Port Arthur Coin Clubs are having a joint meeting so that we may meet with our friends in District 15. Governor Jerry William is arranging this.

Don't forget to pay 1972 dues and make plans to attend the convention. We hope all can be there.

Uncle Sam's Pesos

By: FRED CLARK,
San Angelo, Texas

How many times have the pesos that [illegible] United States passed [illegible] little did I know that this was the start of [illegible]

[illegible]

For the first few years after Spain ceded the Islands to the U.S. in 1898 the Philippines used a heterogeneous currency which included prior Spanish coinage and the Mexican dollar. In 1902 the American Congress provided for a special Philippine coinage, but the pieces actually struck were under the provisions of another act passed in March, 1903.

The March 2nd Act of 1903 established a gold peso of 12.9 grains, 900 fine. [illegible] were never issued. [illegible] a monetary standard or money of account only. It was however, the legal basis for making the Philippine peso worth [illegible] U.S. The [illegible] U.S. gold coin, [illegible] the legal basis of the rate of [illegible] peso from its inception until [illegible] the [illegible] of the Philippine Islands [illegible] commercial relations [illegible]

[illegible] Philippine Islands. The coin weighed [illegible] grains, .900 fine and contained [illegible] grains of pure gold, or the equivalent of one American dollar. The law provided that the peso and other coins might bear distinguishing devices and inscriptions to be prescribed by the government of the Philippine Islands, and such devices and inscriptions as shall express the sovereignty of the U.S. and that it is a coin of the Philippine Islands, the denomination and the year of coinage, to be shown.

The Bureau of the Mint left the matter of executing those specifications to a Filipino named Melecio Figueroa. Figueroa, at the time lived in California but had been an engraver at the Manila Mint during the Spanish era. He provided three designs — two obverses and a standard reverse — which were readily accepted by the Mint. They conformed basically to the accepted standard of American coin art for the time, so little is known who did not know the identity of the designer might be led to believe that they were the work of chief engraver George T. Morgan.

In drawing the general specifications laid down in the act, Figueroa produced a design which would not be readily confused with the standard American dollar coin. The obverse on all silver down to the 10 centavos has a female figure for which his wife modeled. She clutches the olive branch of peace (and agriculture) in her left hand, and with her right leans a hammer of industry on an anvil.

The reverse is a heraldic rearrangement of all of the previous U.S. designs. Although 11 years later George Morgan used a very similar design for the reverse of the 1915 Panama-Pacific Exposition half dollar.

Here the American coin purchasing U.S. dollar. Of course U.S. silver has risen and been demonetized, but the design of the dollar of the Philippines is the same as that of the American arms of the Great Seal. Mr. Morgan's later controversy with the press had a more tremendous impact on the design. Since the 1830's all American silver coins, but dollars had borne designs similar to those of the dollar. Thus the Figueroa reverse clearly showed

GENERAL MACARTHUR

In 1942, General Douglas MacArthur was ordered to depart from the Philippines by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. He made the famous vow, "I Shall Return," and in October 1944 he returned to Leyte with a tremendous force and recaptured the islands from the Japanese. On the 20th of October, a memorable event took place when the general waded ashore to land and to place upon the ground the first footprint of the Philippines.

In 1947, a new coin and 50 centavos were issued honoring the event. On the reverse of the piece is the figure of MacArthur facing right with his left foot forward. General Douglas MacArthur Oct. 20 1944 December 3rd Liberator of the Philippines. The reverse bears the new arms of the Philippines, the denomination and date — 1947S. It has reeded edges, is silver and was designed by J. G. Fraser.

only the American influence in the islands.

For its obverse design in the nickel and bronze series, Figueroa provided a seated maiden in detail. They also include a marking volcano. Both of these designs were [illegible] and changed to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

the 1903 law. Farther along in this Act, Congress inserted a section which was to end coinage of the peso long before the Commonwealth era. It repeated a similar measure which had helped to end standard U.S. dollar coinage in 1904. "The treasurer of the Philippine Islands is hereby authorized, in his discretion, to receive deposits of the standard silver coins of the pesos authorized by this Act to the amount of not less than ten pesos — and to issue certificates therefor in denominations of not less than two pesos nor more than one hundred pesos — provided that the treasurer may substitute for any part of such silver pesos gold coins of the U.S. legally equivalent in value and redeem the certificates hereafter in either silver pesos or gold."

In effect this made the peso a coin for the backing of paper money, just as the American silver dollar had evolved into a coin that sat in banks while the public used silver certificates which the idle coins secured. The standard peso remained in use as more of an American coin even after the Commonwealth was established. The authorization of U.S. gold as currency backing made the peso superfluous, and the tendency was for the public to use paper rather than large silver.

The pesos were analogous to the contemporary dollar in another way. Although coinage was suspended, the denomination was plentiful in banks before the war. However, the use of the peso as a "bank" coin had an entirely different result from that of bank hoarding of the dollar. Huge quantities of American silver dollars were preserved — often in the original tube, given or taken a few bag scratches — in vaults, and thus kept for posterity until about 1963. But this kind of preservation ceased the issue or destruction of many pesos. When the Japanese occupied Manila at the close of 1941, the retreating Americans took some 16 million silver pesos from there to the island fortress of Corregidor in Manila Bay. In early 1942, when it was obvious that Corregidor must fall, the Americans dumped into the bay in hope that whoever captured the money would not get the silver. Gold and some silver bullion were taken out of Manila to Corregidor for the Philippine government to get money to buy arms from private sources and American dollars for refugees. Many Americans did not realize that only a fraction of the 16 million pesos were recovered by the Japanese, and later by U.S. Navy salvage efforts. The remainder evidently are still on the bottom. The sea water, of course, did the coin finish no good. Thus there not only reduced the total supply but it greatly lowered the ratio of uncirculated specimens to total coins available.

In spite of this, the price range is not prohibitive. The old large peso lists for about $7.50 in extra fine to $15.00 to $16.00 uncirculated, the smaller variety at $5.00 and $13.00 to $14.00.

The Figueroa allegory remained in use more than 55 years when the Philippine Republic changed the wording on the obverses of its coins but left the art work untouched. Figueroa's work was unusual also in that it was by a foreigner rather than a native American. It survived two changes in government, along with major changes in the sizes and even the metals of the coins. The 1903 peso of 19.8 grams of 90% silver was reduced to 10 grams of 72% silver by the Filipino Commonwealth, and further cut on a cent-by-cent basis, the size of the old Commonwealth and earlier coins of equal value.

The "traditional" coins of the peso type and face powered the coins [illegible]

ANA TO GET TOUGH?

For the good of the organization," explained ANA governor Virgil Hancock of Bellaire, Texas, when interviewed by TNA News, "at the semi annual meeting of the ANA Board of Governors held in Colorado Springs, it was voted 'to expel from membership Ford Barnhardt, Humberto Costa, M G Gatlin, Frank Maher, Presente Morin, Errol Rosnick, R J Simpkins and coin dealer Fred Sweeney.'"

In explaining an addition to the ANA By-Laws Hancock went on to say, "Speaking for myself and not for the rest of the Board, I believe it's high time the ANA took a good, hard look at our membership list, and during the remaining 13 months of my term in office, it certainly is possible that there can be further expulsions."

The addition made to the ANA By Laws, Article III, Section III, reads "The selling and/or trading knowingly by any member of a counterfeit or altered numismatic item, or the selling and/or trading by any member, on three or more occasions of counterfeit or altered numismatic items irrespective of his knowledge or lack of knowledge as to the authenticity of, may be deemed to constitute conduct unbecoming to a member and prejudicial to the welfare of the association."

A further directive passed by the ANA Board reads "The selling and/or trading knowingly by any member of a grossly overgraded numismatic item or the selling and/or trading by any member, on three or more occasions, of grossly overgraded numismatic items (irrespective of his knowledge or lack of knowledge of the accuracy of the grading thereof) may be deemed to constitute conduct unbecoming to a member and prejudicial to the welfare of the association."

It was also ruled that hereafter a third party, who has first-hand information of wrong doing, may file a complaint, and that such third party complaint shall be given the same weight as though filed by the injured party.

"Heretofore only the injured party's complaint was accepted," explained Hancock, "and too many times the injured party didn't want to 'get involved.'"

When a collector sees an ANA membership number listed alongside a name," argued Hancock, "the collector trustingly feels that he can have complete confidence in dealing with such an ANA numbered name.

"The collector trusts that the advertised 'BU' coin truly will be a 'BU' when he buys it from an ANA member.

"The collector trusts an ANA-numbered name to know the difference between a genuine coin and an altered or counterfeit coin.

"A man is just as dead if he's killed by a bullet triggered accidentally as if the trigger is pulled intentionally.

A collector is just as injured if he's sold a faked coin through the seller's ignorance as through a crook's design.

In my book then, if an honest, sincere, but ignorant ANA member unintentionally but repeatedly sells fake coins, then I shall vote to expel such an ANA member. ANA can not afford to give ANA's blessing to anyone — no matter how innocent — who repeatedly sells faked coins.

A physician who repeatedly prescribed castor oil for appendicitis quickly would have his license to practice jerked. And so it should be with incompetent ANA members who repeatedly — and I emphasize that

So many Eisenhower dollars are being issued this year collectors may collect them by the roll. They can tell one from another by carefully noting the 1974 mint mark and by remembering that a very few were struck in San Francisco.

Also to be collected are the uncirculated coins that were struck for collectors.

The government-struck silver dollars honoring the late president are the first addition to the Treasury's dollar family since 1935, when the Peace dollar ceased to be issued because the Roosevelt dime, which did not exist at the time, was selling for more than the silver dollar.

The Eisenhower dollar is the first dollar coin to be issued in the United States since 1971, when the Treasury began issuing the Eisenhower dollar. Actually, the Eisenhower dollar was struck in 1970 as a pattern piece, but it was not released for circulation.

NON PROFIT; TAX FREE

By: JOHN S. HILL,

[illegible] words for any organization, hard to get, and harder still to keep, yet these two phrases carry with them an obligation, mandatory on some, on others compulsion will be needed before this exemption will be granted.

The [illegible] Association is fortunate indeed to have qualified for this much sought after "status" or position and necessary powers to operate under and observe to our utmost responsibilities. By virtue of this relation with TNA our member local clubs enjoy the same benefits and are subject to the same responsibilities as the parent organization.

Now just what are the legal limitations for this type of corporation? First and foremost, we must orient our thinking to an operation in which anticipated profit will be limited to our needs plus the creation of reasonable reserves to care for next year's activities.

Each TNA local club should ideally spell out their annual needs through adoption of a formal budget which we (and should) establish its flexibility usually through an item termed "Miscellaneous" to cushion the impact of expenses incurred for items not included in the original budget through oversight or for items that have since been considered to be pertinent to the club's operation and growth.

In connection with the annual club budget planning should prevail no more than normal growth. Let us not be BOLD and part for [illegible]

Let's all of us [illegible] President Bert [illegible] what we can do.

Now as to [illegible] surpluses over and above the requirement for the annual budget, and after reasonable allowances for planned expansion, current interpretations allow a generous amount to be held in reserve in the club's treasury, usually equal to one year's operating expenses. Funds in excess of this amount should and must be donated to some worthy charity or community project.

It is our suggestion that each club should, at the first of each year, adopt a charity or a project to receive its surplus funds. Thus members would know just who and/or what [illegible] scheduled to receive the surplus and [illegible] The club could then plan for the event and work on it throughout the year.

Several of our clubs are doing this and have been doing this for some time. The Atomic City Club comes [illegible] to have several at times worthy projects on hand two of which appear to be [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Dome [illegible]

NEWS ROUNDUP – A.N.A.

We've been asked, "Can a club or a person, for that matter, purchase a duplicate of a slide set in the ANA Audio Visual Library for presentation as a memorial or as just a contribution to the TNA Library?" The answer is, "Yes, our audio-visual programs are available for regional or state organizations who are members of the ANA at no charge." All that is required is for you to let us know which slide sets you would like to have duplicated. The cost will be approximately 50¢ per slide, and there is a requirement that when the slide program is shown by your state organization, a credit line is given to ANA" — this from Executive Director Wilde.

Just last month this column called attention to slide sets recently added to the ANA audio-visual library. These would make interesting additions to the TNA library. They could be given as a memorial to a deceased member or a gift to honor someone special who is still around to appreciate the gesture. A set may be purchased by either club or individual.

You ask, "If the slides are in the ANA library why get them for TNA?" Simply because there are many more member clubs in ANA desiring to use the slides than there are clubs in TNA — AND — those clubs are all over the country, the world in fact. There's a problem of getting slides to where they are wanted when they are wanted. This is one of the things we have heard at the district representatives meeting at ANA conventions and this is one of the reasons we are proud of TNA's library. The privilege of getting the duplicate sets is just one of the ANA services we appreciate.

Have you made your plans to attend the 14th convention of TNA in Dallas on April 14-16? You will have an opportunity to get acquainted with dynamic, knowledgeable, affable ANA president John Jay Pittman. He and that equally attractive, lovely editor of Coin World, Mrs. Margo Russell will be on the educational forum. They are great and we are fortunate to be having them!

Aren't you thrilled and proud of the generosity of our fellow Texan Kenneth Keith who has given his — ? ? ? words seem so trite) collection of Mexican coins to the ANA museum? Acts such as this sort plus the equally dedicated, though less spectacular, generosity of many who have made lesser donations will build that museum "equal to any in the country" which curator Richard Long envisions within the decade. Just because you can't give something comparable with Keith's your gift will be no less sincerely appreciated. 10 get years in — — AND plan to go to Colorado Springs and see it all at ANA headquarters.

With each rising of the sun think of your life as just begun.

JUNIOR READIN' ROUNDUP

By MARY JANE WHYBORN
San Antonio, Texas
Youth Chairman

Next month we will be going to Dallas for the TNA convention and I sincerely hope that I will be seeing many of you there. I especially hope that all of the nominees for "Outstanding Junior" will be there for the awards breakfast on Sunday morning. Next year's award will be presented during convention time, so the added responsibility will be made much easier. There are a number of outstanding young numismatists in TNA and hopefully there will be many more in the years to come. It is only right that they should be honored along with their adult counterparts.

This next year I hope to see even more activity on the part of all the juniors throughout the state. Junior activity definitely seems to be on the upswing and we want to keep it that way. We need even more juniors in TNA and the adult interest plays a big part in bringing them to us as they are older. It is up to the adults in the various clubs to invite young people to their meetings. In this way we can help young people become an integral part of their hobby club.

SEE YOU IN DALLAS IN APRIL!

Bad weather prevented me from visiting all the coin clubs I had on my schedule for January, but I did manage to attend meetings of the Hunt County Coin Club in Greenville, the Texoma Coin Club of Denison-Sherman and the Dallas Coin Club.

It was especially disappointing to me that I was unable to attend the Greater Houston Coin Club show where I had hoped to visit with many of our members in that area whom I seldom get to see except at our annual convention. I had plumbing problems!

The Hunt County Coin Club was busy planning for their annual coin show to be held the week following our TNA convention in Dallas. I heard Fort Worth coin dealer Bob Wallace forcast probable coin activity and values for 1972. He forsees a rising market, especially in moderately priced type coins in better grades. He was very optimistic about Barber quarters and halves, the 1970-D half dollar (issued only in the mint set) and U.S. paper money.

TNA Convention General Chairman Homer Brooks reported on convention progress. It looks like he and Tom Bain, and their staff of helpers from the host Dallas Coin Club have everything going for a great show.

Besides seeing all your numismatic friends again from throughout the state, shopping with the nation's outstanding coin dealers, viewing unusual exhibits, and attending the coin auction, visitors will have an opportunity to hear two of our country's best known numismatic personalities on the educational program. Margo Russell, editor of Coin World, and John Jay Pittman, president of ANA. You just can't afford to miss this one!

As you read this it will not be too long until convention time. Let us all plan to be there and have a good time. This is when you can really enjoy numismatics to the betterment of your knowledge. It is also the time to see old friends and make new ones. So one and all plan to be in Dallas at the Baker Hotel April 14-16. You will be glad you did.

To each of you who have signed at least one new member and to each governor who signed at least five — I say a special thank you. This is keeping with the goal as set by our president at the first of the year. To other members of TNA, do not give up but start the new year with drive that you will do better than the "best" did this year. This is the way TNA will grow even more. By us working together we can keep TNA where it should be — the best in the nation.

It is about time for local clubs to start having their annual shows. Start making plans to make as many of these as you can. This helps the club to have a good show. It will help you as you will meet some interesting and very nice people at these [illegible]. While there you might find what you call a bargain. Maybe they went to sleep or just plain got tired [illegible]. Let us all [illegible] help your own club have a better show.

No doubt there are other clubs doing equally fine work, we just do not hear about it.

Since this is an item of interest to all of our members, these activities should be reported to our secretary for filing and to our TNA News Editor for publication and annual tabulation. The total might be surprising, even to ourselves.

If at the end of the club year the club's surplus is low, steps can always be taken to bolster the amount to be donated. Benefit auctions, private donations, drawings and many other ideas can be used. [illegible] Why not do this? What [illegible] next month?

HIGHEST QUALITY - .999 FINE SILVER - 10 GAUGE

FOURTH TNA MEDAL

From TNA Medals Officer — Roger Earwood

The fourth TNA Medal will be ready soon. The obverse features the Confederate States of America 1861 Half Dollar. The reverse will remain the same as the first three issues with the exception that a new reverse die is being used. 175 sets will be struck in .999 fine silver in 10 gauge, and the diameter will be 39MM. The edge will be reeded and the silver medals will be serially numbered. 825 Bronze will be struck in 12 gauge with reeded edge but will not be numbered.

The fourth medal will be very high quality due to using .999 fine silver instead of sterling, 10 gauge in lieu of 14, reeded edge and serially numbered in place of plain edge and unnumbered, also the bronze will be 12 gauge with reeded edge this year

These fine sets will sell for $15.00 each and the single bronze medals for $1.00 each. The persons who have purchased sets in the past will have first choice and will be notified by letter as before. Library activities during the past several months have been very slow. Just a few slide sets and several books have been loaned out.

Please add to your library book list.

S-23 — Animals, Birds and Fishes on Coins by Gunter Schon. This book was designed for the junior members and topical collectors.

H-17 — Gold Coins of the Americas by Robert P. Harris.

To borrow these books, all it takes is a request and a little bit of postage and since they are shipped at Library Rate, it amounts to very little. Clubs may order slide sets for programs also at a nominal cost.

THIS IS YOUR LIBRARY — USE IT!

Thieves Fooled

Thieves drilled through a 15-inch church wall at Hawksworth Wood England to steal a 1933 penny valued at $17,800 and placed there when the church was built.

When they finally broke through all they found were new decimal coins. The Rev. Michale Hunter, vicar of the church, had removed the penny 18 months ago and put it in the bank.

America's Fastest Growing
wants to buy from you:

RARE COINS,
COLLECTIONS,
ESTATES,
ACCUMULATIONS,

or any numismatic material from $100 to $100,000.

In conjunction with the fantastic growth of our national retail sales, we are placed in a position of having to buy at a constantly escalating rate. Our extremely large volume of 100% retail sales makes it possible for us to pay you absolute top dollar for your numismatic material. We have customers for your coins and will pay more to get them.

WHAT WE WANT TO BUY

We need a wide and varied assortment of numismatic items that most dealers just don't have the facilities to handle. We are not interested in "Cherry Picking" your collection, in other words we will not buy only the choice material from your collection and leave you holding the bag with what's left. We want and need everything, whether AG or proof, modern or obsolete. In short, if it's been worth your effort to save, we want it.

ADVANTAGES OF SELLING TO US

(1) You get far more for your entire collection when you sell to Riverside Coin Company. Why? We have the best possible location for retail sales, we are centrally located in heavy tourist traffic and only a stones throw from Hemisfair Plaza, the still active site of World's Fair 1968. This means we pay more for the insignificant items that dealers cannot afford to advertise as we sell them direct to our tourist clientele. We sell the better material to eager collectors through national advertising.

(2) You get immediate cash payment in strict confidence.

(3) You get the full value from your collection when selling to Riverside. Many collectors sell unknowingly to wholesale dealers. We are living proof of this as we spend hundreds of thousands of dollars annually with these wholesale dealers. You will eliminate him and get 100% for yourself by selling to Riverside.

(4) You get a pleasant and enjoyable transaction. You'll like the Riverside way of doing business.

HOW TO SELL TO US

Selling to us is as easy as A-B-C. Thousands of collectors and dealers have done it. Here's all you do: Package your coins securely and mail them to us either insured or registered mail. Our offer in the form of a check goes out to you airmail the same day your shipment is received. Your coins are then held intact for 10 days while you consider our offer. If for some reason you do not accept our offer, your coins will be immediately returned to you postpaid.
